The Eden Journal

Written by Adam in the Garden of Eden
In the Year Zero

Chapter One

1. God said, "Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the earth, and subdue it; and rule over the fish of the sea and over the birds of the sky, and over every living thing that moves on the earth."
2. Then God said, "Behold, I have given you every plant yielding seed that is on the surface of all the earth, and every tree which has fruit yielding seed; it shall be food for you."

Chapter Two

1. And the Lord God commanded the man saying, "From any tree of the garden you may eat freely;
2. But from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil you shall not eat, for in the day that you eat from it you shall surely die."
- (3. God said to the man, "I'm going to give men 4,000 years to learn about women before I command y'all to live with them in an understanding manner. But, because of your unique situation and because I am a just God, I'm going to start you off with one hint... women can strike up conversations with total strangers as easily as you could throw a rock and hit that snake in that tree over there. Well, actually, that's two hints.")
